Traffic signs and signals tell drivers when to stop and when to go. They warn of railroad crossing and other hazards and tell you where you may ride. Bicycle riders are considered vehicles; bicyclists must obey all traffic signs and signals.

Traffic Lights

Red: Stop at red lights. Proceed when safe to do so.

Yellow: A yellow light is a warning that the light is about to turn red for a car, for you it's a red light.

Green: You may go on a green light, but you must look carefully to see if it is safe to go first.

Stop Sign
Come to a complete stop, at least for three seconds. Look to the right and the left. Proceed when safe to do so.

Yield
Slow down and let other vehicles or pedestrians go before you.

Pedestrians Crosswalk
Near a crosswalk, always watch both sides of the street for pedestrians. Pedestrians have the right of way.

School Crossing
At the School crossing, you must let pedestrians go first.

Railroad Crossing
Stop. Look for flashing lights and listen for the train whistle. Never ride through, around or under any crossing gate.

Road Construction
Watch for bumpy roads and large equipment.

Safety precautions
- In commercial areas watch for exits and entrances of cars that are coming in/out of the shopping center.
- Before crossing a street make sure to look behind and check for cars that are turning into the street that you're crossing.
- Always stay in the bike lanes. Sidewalks are for pedestrians only, unless its an emergency.
- Make sure to keep yourself hydrated.
